Who can ride?

Children can ride on their own when they are 6 years old and older. However, 6 year olds have the option of either riding alone or riding double with one of our experienced guides. If they ride with a guide, they ride in front of the guide in the same saddle so they can see and fully participate, but the guide controls their horse for them. If they are a mature 6 year old and feel comfortable riding on their own, they are permitted to do so.

Families can also take advantage of the special pricing we offer to Y-Guides and Princesses so long as you are an active participant in the program.

What's included?

We can take up to 40 riders at one time plus our guides, and we will customize the ride for your tribe. Prices include a patch and access to the shaded picnic area and playground for as long as you'd like to use it.

We're open year-round, so come on out and get taken for a ride at Dead Broke Farm!
